Farmingville, NY - On March 16, Supervisor Ed Romaine attended the ribbon cutting ceremony at the grand opening of Nightingale Preventative Care at the Kmart store located at 2280 North Ocean Avenue (Route 83) in Farmingville. Nightingale Preventative Care is a nurse practitioner-based medical practice providing high quality, affordable primary and preventative healthcare services. It is the company's first "in-store" medical practice. The Supervisor presented a Certificate of Congratulations to Mildred Scharf-Ehrenfeld, President of Nightingale Preventative Care.

Supervisor Romaine said, "So many of our residents need affordable and convenient healthcare that fits in with their budgets and busy schedules. I welcome Nightingale Preventative Care to the Town of Brookhaven and thank them for providing such an important service to our residents."

Nightingale Preventative Care is open seven days a week at the Farmingville Kmart with no appointment necessary. Most insurance plans are accepted.
